MORE SHIP INDICTMENTS DUE IN NORTH

SEATTLE, Jan. 24.—Further indictments as a result of a grand jury investigation of alleged frauds in the Pacific Coast shippings were expected by federal agents today, to follow within a few days the return of two true bills yesterday against Captain John Main, former head of the Emergency Fleet Corporation for the North Pacific district. Captain Main was charged with accepting secret commissions while acting in his official capacity. The grand jury recessed last night to reconvene Tuesday and at that time, according to W. C. Foster, special agent for the department of justice, who has been handling the Main case, further indictments would probably be brought in. Cases of other officials will be presented to the grand jury when it reconvenes Tuesday, it was understood. The indictments were returned against Captain Main. One indictment, which contains fifty counts, charges that while district manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation for the North Pacific district, Main, between August, 1917, and April, 1919, he was also agent for the Stewart and Equipment Corporation, and was directly interested in the profits of the firm, through sales of materials to equip shipping board vessels built in Washington and Oregon. The indictment further charges that he received secret commissions amounting to $17,700 arising from contracts between the government and the Stewart company. The second indictment covers the same charges.

NO FLU EPIDEMIC EXPECTED HERE

California is not preparing for any general influenza epidemic and no increase in the number of cases is expected, although there may be an increase in the number of cases, according to Dr. E. H. Ricketts, president of the California Board of Health, announced today. The hospitals are taking no unusual measures," Dr. Ricketts said. "The number of pneumonia cases is about normal for this season of the year and there has been only a slight increase in influenza cases. The country was well burned over by the epidemic of last year and as a result the influenza epidemic has been strengthened and increased." Dr. Ricketts reported 322 influenza cases in the State for the week ending Wednesday, January 21.

NEW CASES REPORTED. BERKELEY, Jan. 24.—Thirty-one new cases of influenza and one case of pneumonia were reported during the past twenty-four hours in Berkeley. The total number of "flu" cases to 123 and three deaths, according to the health officials. The death was that of Annie Jefferson, 45 years old, who died at a local sanatorium. She resided at 819 Fifty-second street, Oakland.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—With one out of every hundred persons in Chicago ill with the "flu" today, according to health department estimates, Health Commissioner John D. Roberson prepared to continue his offensive against the epidemic.

There were 3193 new cases reported yesterday and 48 deaths. New cases of pneumonia totaled 341, with 93 deaths.

Telephone service was seriously threatened with 1600 operators off duty, ill with "flu."

Decision on New Dry Law Monday

Charging that a year has not yet elapsed since Secretary Lansing's announcement of the ratification of the prohibition amendment and that there is in consequence, no legal right to deny transportation of wines until January 26, Theodore Bell, attorney for the winemen of the state, has asked the federal judge Frank H. Rudkin the decision, which in a test case he regarded as extremely important, will be rendered Monday. Requests to transport liquor have been coming in to Justice S. Wardell, collector of internal revenue from all states and until there is blanket authority granted for favorable action they are being denied.

EDUCATION FOR POLICE URGED

Commenting that the policemen in the United States have not the intelligence to understand the factors that enter into crime and that they are not properly trained in their work, August Vollmer, chief of police of Berkeley, addressing the women of Oakland County, California Civic League, insisted that the people demand men of greater intelligence, education, character and temperament. "To get the right sort of men to come and stay in the department," Vollmer said, "it will be necessary to pay them substantial sums of money and to protect them in office." He advocated university education for policemen. E. Morris Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, was the second speaker. A communication to the chief of police of Oakland demanding greater protection for women and girls on the streets remained unanswered by the department was reported by Mrs. Kate Rousevelt, the delegate to the Big Sisters. Commissioner Morse in communication informed the women that the State motor vehicle laws fully protect the public and that orders issued by the department for their rigid enforcement in Oakland.

Reports were offered by Mrs. May Larkin Marston, chairman of the department on anti-high cost of living. Mrs. Elizabeth Rousevelt, chairman of the legislative committee, presented a petition for the passage of a bill to amend the law relating to the sale of liquor to minors. The bill was referred to the committee on education.

Flu Victim Denied Whisky Despite M. D.

UNTIL permission comes from Washington, L. A. Martin, influenza patient at Providence hospital, will not get the whisky which his physicians say is necessary for his recovery. Martin, whose home is in Seattle, is in a serious condition and his doctors, O. D. Hamlin and Phil Abbott, have sought to give him an ounce of whisky every four hours. The liquor they say is the basic treatment in such cases.

A telegraphic request for immediate authority to permit physicians to prescribe liquor for medicinal purposes was despatched to Washington last night by Frank M. Silva, pneumonia enforcement officer. Under the prohibition laws one pint every ten days is the maximum that may be given.

It is also probable that steps will be taken to have the Federal government fix the prices at which whisky shall be sold for such purposes, as it is alleged that certain drug stores have been profiteering. Several of these men will be called upon for explanations, according to Silva.

Girl-Mother of Three to Face World With Burden

Salvation Army Home at Deulah, who without the protection of the golden wedding band, must face the world with her three baby daughters and the memory of the small grave on the hillside where the fourth of the quartet born Thursday afternoon sleeps. Healthy, lusty, crowing youngsters these three young daughters, insisting upon remaining in this world which is proving its heart to the frail young woman who has determined that she will never give them up. There is love and to spare for them all and hands which are willing to be caloused that they may have shelter and food.

Her cry of "What shall I do?" when she found there were three baby girls to be protected instead of one, is being answered and friends have begun to crowd around her. The Salvation Army, through its commandant Lora Hubbard, who is at Deulah, has founded anxiety and halted worry by plugging a home and employment. But 20 years old this mother is an attractive girl who believed the promise of a man that he would wed her. Her womanhood flamed at the suggestion that she give up even one of the little daughters to strangers for adoption.

"I have nothing to go to," she says. "You will stay here as long as you want," answers the Salvation Army.

Brush from, which is found of course before the public because of the nature of its work, is not an institution where girls who have been sinned against are regarded as bunnies. It is a real home with a mother's arms and genuine well come to make it distinct. In the nursery are more than a dozen little babies of love who laugh and scold and find the world a good place wherein to live. Eight infants have been born within its shelter, this month. Behind the handwork which the young mothers manufacture while they prepare to again face the world lies in swelling the treasury which makes it possible.

The girl mother who gave birth to the four young women is a slender, convalescent girl. The three babies who lived are in perfect condition.

of which she was a prominent member, and her mother, at Geyserville, was notified of the accident. According to the police, Nesbitt was driving his large touring car at a high rate of speed last night on the wrong side of Second avenue when he crashed head on into a parked car in front of the residence of Harry Anderson, 1245 Second avenue.

The entire neighborhood was aroused by the terrific crash that ensued. The car first struck by Nesbitt was hurled back a distance of several yards and a number of cars, also owned by Anderson.

The second car to be piled up was hurled back into a small car owned by William Person, who lives at Second avenue and East Fourteenth street.

Nesbitt's car and the first car it struck sustained considerable damage, but Nesbitt escaped uninjured. Anderson telephoned the police, and inspectors William and Nelson were sent. They found Nesbitt sitting in his car in a dazed condition. He refused to talk about the accident. His car was taken in charge by the wrecking car from the neighboring garage, and Nesbitt was taken to the Central police station. When interrogated by the police he admitted, according to the police report, that with the assistance of a friend he had consumed a large quantity of port wine shortly before the accident occurred.

Speed Law Violator May Get Probation

Chiropractor is Found Not Guilty

Cherwin and prolonged handicap, which had threatened the disapproval of the court built last night, the jury's decision of "not guilty" in the case of H. O. Hanna, chiropractor of Oakland, who was charged with practicing medicine without a license.

The trial occupied nearly the entire day of Judge Anderson's court, and the verdict of the jury was not rendered until 5 o'clock. Hanna was defended by State Attorney J. H. Anderson, who was one of the counsels of the national organization of the chiropractors. The case has aroused national-wide interest and was regarded as an important test of the right of chiropractors to practice without official licenses from State medical boards.

ARMENIAN ASKS HELP OF AMERICA

Blending that the United States recognize the small Armenian government already established, giving to it the official status which would enable it to borrow from this country money for reconstruction work as has been done in Belgium and other small European nations, expressing a desire that the Rockefeller institution would be enabled to make a generous loan to them, General Mesrop N. Azapagian, a member of the Armenian community in the Piedmont Academy, a fashionable school for boys, is in the city today facing a charge of driving an automobile while in an intoxicated condition.

According to the police, Nesbitt was driving his large touring car at a high rate of speed last night on the wrong side of Second avenue when he crashed head on into a parked car in front of the residence of Harry Anderson, 1245 Second avenue.

Full Text Presented of Dutch Reply to Demand for Kaiser

Following is the reply of the Netherlands government to the content demand for the surrender of the former kaiser:

By verbal note, dated January 15, 1920, given to the envoy of the quest at Paris, the powers, referring to Article 227 of the treaty of Versailles, demand that the government of Holland give into their hands William of Hohenzollern, former emperor of Germany, so that he may be tried.

Supporting this demand they observe that if the former emperor had remained in Germany, the German government would, under the terms of Article 223 of the treaty of peace, have been obliged to deliver him.

In citing as premeditated violations of international treaties, as well as a systematic disregard of the most sacred rules of the rights of man, the Netherlands government, in the name of justice, calls upon the German authorities to place the responsibility, at least morally, upon the former emperor.

DEMANDS EMPHASIZED. They express the opinion that Holland would not fulfill her international duty if she refused to associate herself with them within the limit of her ability to pursue, or at least not to impede, the punishment of crimes committed.

They emphasize the special character of their demands, which contemplate not a juridical accusation, but an act of high international policy, and they make appeal to Holland's sense of law and love of justice, to cover with her moral authority violation by Germany of the essential principles of the solidarity of the nations.

The queen has the honor to observe, first, the obligations which, for Germany, could have resulted from Article 223 of the treaty of peace, cannot serve to determine the duty of Holland, which is not a party to the treaty.

The government of the queen, moved by impracticable reasons, cannot view the question raised by the demands of the powers except from the point of view of its own duty. It was absolutely unconnected with the origin of the war and has maintained, and not without difficulty, its neutrality to the end.

A., St. Peter's Episcopal church, St. John's Presbyterian church, B'nai B'rith, pledged support to the orphans whose present nourishment consists of an ounce of rice daily. laws of the kingdom, which are based upon the principles of law universally recognized, nor a respectable secular tradition which has made this country always a ground for refuge for the vanquished in international conflicts, permit the government of Holland to defer to the desire of the powers by withdrawing from the former emperor the benefit of its laws and this tradition.

Justice and national honor, of which respect is a sacred duty, oppose this. The Netherlands people, moved by the sentiments to which in history the world has done justice could not betray the faith of those who have confided themselves to their free institutions.

The government of the queen is pleased to believe that the powers will recognize the good grounds of these considerations, which rise above any consideration of personalities and which seem to it so peremptory that they could not reasonably give rise to wrong interpretations.

GOD'S FOREKNOWLEDGE Not a Determining Cause

By DR. JAMES E. TALMAGE
Of the Council of the Twelve, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Salt Lake City, Utah.
Note. For free copies of other articles of this series, send request to the author.

Prophesy is one of the specified gifts of the Spirit, and one of the distinguishing graces of the Church of Christ. If there be prophesy there must be prophecy through whom the purposes of God are made known to the people at large. Prediction of events more or less remotely future is a prophetic function, though constituting but part of the gift of prophesy.

Divine revelation of what is to come is proof of foreknowledge. God therefore knows, and has known from the beginning, what shall be, even to the end of the world. The transgression of Adam was foreknown, even before the man was embodied in flesh, and because of the results entailed before the man was embodied in flesh, even "the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world." The earthly life, ministry, and sacrificial death of the Savior were all foreseen, and their certainty was declared by the mouths of holy prophets.

The apostasy of the Primitive Church, the long centuries of spiritual darkness, the restoration of the Gospel in these latter days in a land specially prepared as the abode of a liberty-loving nation—each of these epoch-marking events was known to God, and by Him was revealed through prophets empowered to speak in His name.

But who will venture to affirm that foreknowledge is a determining cause? God's omniscience concerning Adam's fall cannot reasonably be considered the cause of the Fall. Adam was free to do as he chose to do. God did not force him to disobey the Divine command. Neither did God's knowledge compel false Judas to betray the Christ, nor the recreant Jews to crucify their Lord.

Surely the omniscience of God does not operate to make of men automatons; nor does it warrant the superstition of fatalism. The chief purpose of earth life, as a stage in the course of the soul's progression, would be nullified if man's agency was after all but a pretense, and he a creature of circumstance compelled to do as he does.

A mortal father who knows the weaknesses and frailties of his son may by reason of that knowledge sorrowfully predict the calamities and suffering awaiting his wayward boy. He may foresee in that son's future a forfeiture of blessings that could be won, loss of position and respect, reputation, character, and honor. But the shadow of a felon's cell, the night of a drunkard's grave may loom in the visions of that fond and fatherly soul. Yet, continued by experience of the son's determination to follow the path of sin, he foresees the dread developments of the future, and writes in anguish because of his knowledge.

Can it be truthfully said that the father's foreknowledge is even a contributory cause of the evil life of his boy? To so hold it is to say that a negligent parent, who will not trouble himself to study the character of his son, who shies his eyes to sinful ways and rests in careless indifference as to the probable future, will by his very heartlessness benefit the boy, because the father's lack of forethought diminishes the son's tendency toward dereliction.

By way of further illustration, consider the man versed in meteorology, who by due consideration of temperature, air-pressure, humidity, and other essential data, is able to forecast weather conditions. He speaks of coming rain, or of long experience in forecasting a storm. The storm comes bringing benefit or injury, contributing to the harvest perhaps or destroying the ripening grain; but, whether it be of good or ill effect can he who prophesied of the approaching storm be held accountable for its coming.

It may be argued, however, that in these illustrative instances neither the mortal parent nor the human forecaster had power to alter the respective course of events, while God can direct and over-rule as He wills. But, be it remembered that God has granted agency unto His children, and does not control them in its exercise by arbitrary force. He impels no man toward sin; He compels none to righteousness.

The Father of our spirits has a full knowledge of the nature and disposition of each of His children, a knowledge gained by observation and experience in the long years of pre-mortal childhood when we existed as unembodied spirits, endowed with individuality and agency—a knowledge compared with that gained by earthly parents through experience with their children in the flesh is infinitesimally small. In that surpassing knowledge God reads the future of child and children, of men individually and of men collectively. He knows what each will do under given conditions, and sees the end from the beginning. His foreknowledge is based on intuition and reason. He foresees the future of men and nations as a state that naturally and surely will be, not as a state of things that must be because He has arbitrarily willed that it shall be.

"Known unto God are all His works from the beginning of the world." (Acts 15:18.)

He willed and decreed the mortal state for His spirit offspring, and prepared the earth for their schooling. He provided by the facilities necessary to the training, and thus proclaimed His purpose.

"For behold, this is my work and my glory—to bring to pass the immortality and eternal life of man." (Pearl of Great Price, p. 7.)

MEMBERS AND FRIENDS WILL PAY RESPECTS
Tomorrow marks the third anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. J. N. Garst in the Twenty-third Avenue Baptist Church. All the members and friends are invited to be present for the anniversary service. The sermon subject will be "When They Had Prayed." This is the conclusion of a series of "Prayer" during the month of January. It is a striking coincidence in the beginning of the fourth year of his pastorate because he is more anxious to be helped by the work of the Kingdom than of anything else.

WELSH PRESBYTERIAN
On Sunday evening a special "In Memoriam" service will be held at the Welsh Presbyterian church in Welsh, to honor the memory of the late R. O. Jones, one of the elders of the church for many years. The service will be conducted by the Rev. J. N. Garst. Special music will be given, solos being rendered by Miss Mary Jones and Mrs. J. N. Garst. The pastor, Rev. O. R. Williams, will preach an appropriate sermon. All the Welsh people of this district are cordially invited to attend this service.

FRUITVALE METHODIST
On Monday evening a supper was given to the officers and teachers of the Sunday school at the Fruitvale Methodist Episcopal church. The plans for the future were discussed and decided upon. William R. McCarter was re-elected superintendent of the Sunday school for the ensuing year. The school has made a gain of 30 per cent average attendance during the past year. The subject of the evening was "The Passing of Opportunity."

HOUSEWIVES PUT BOYCOTT ON POTATOES

BERKELEY, Jan. 24.—Potatoes came under the watchful eye of the Berkeley Housewives' League yesterday and a "polite" boycott of the white-complexioned variety was called by the members at a meeting held in the Washington school.

Mrs. Meyer Jaffa, chairman of the league's inquiry committee, told the housewives that there was a slight shortage, probably amounting to 10 per cent, of potatoes in California, with the shortage amounting to 25 per cent in some sections of the country, but saw no reason for a 100 per cent boycott in prices.

As a result of her report a resolution submitted by Mrs. Raymond T. Teale was unanimously adopted as follows:

"Whereas there is a shortage of white potatoes of about 20 per cent in the whole country, and
"Whereas the price has increased 100 per cent, the Berkeley Housewives' League requests all people of Berkeley to refrain from eating white potatoes so that the supply may become greater and the price drop to normal."

Retail butchers were partly excused for the high price of meat in a report submitted by Miss Gretchen Jensen, who declared that a wholesale increase in price of three cents was met only by a similar raise on the part of retailers. Butchers were not so ready, however, to meet the rise in the price of pork, according to Miss Jensen who cited the fact that while this variety of meat dropped 15 per cent in Chicago, a decrease of 6 per cent in the region of Berkeley was in the bag.

The league went on record as lending its support to those retailers who show inclinations of meeting a drop in price.

WEBB IS ENDORSED

Resolutions endorsing the stand of Attorney General Webb in allowing the Milk Trust to operate as a monopoly, and urging the appointment of Charles Johnson, present sealer of weights and measures, as successor to Harris Westcott as market director were carried.

That an investigation of the high cost of living be included in the call for a special session of the legislature, should such a gathering be held, was a request of the women sent to the governor.

STRIKERS TURNED BACK BY POLICE

Turned back at the Alameda end of the Webster street bridge a crowd of 600 shipyard workers gave up plans for a demonstration at the Bethlehem plant, returned to Oakland and dispersed.

The men went to Alameda at the closing time at the yards late yesterday afternoon. They were met by Police Lieutenant George Daly, Edward J. Williams, and twelve patrolmen who ordered them to return. As they retraced their steps they were joined by Oakland patrolmen and dispersed.

While the crowd had gathered a number of workers at the yards began to pass out of the gates on their way home. They were hustled to waiting Southern Pacific cars with a few strike sympathizers and strikers trailing them. One fight is said to have broken out before the arrival of the police. There were no arrests.

"Y." Field Women to Hold Annual Meet

The annual meeting of the field committee of the Young Woman's Christian Association whose activities cover the states of California, Nevada, Arizona and the Hawaiian Islands is announced for Monday at Hotel Bellevue in San Francisco. Election of officers will take place. Mrs. Lawrence Draper is the retiring president, Mrs. Henry Crocker, retiring first vice president, and Mrs. John S. Merrill, retiring treasurer. A luncheon will take large numbers of local association leaders across the bay.

Miss Martha Chickering of Piedmont, immigration secretary for the Pacific division, recently returned from Poland where she accompanied the first unit of young Polish women trained in the country for social service work, will be the principal speaker at the annual conference.

Wife is Charged With Taking Husband's Pay

Claiming that his wife always compelled him to turn over all his salary and then fed him on dried salt fish and refused to give him even a little spending money, Manuel Brazil today vigorously protested against giving his wife temporary alimony pending the hearing of the divorce suit. His protestations failed, however, and Judge A. P. St. Sure ordered him to give his wife $15 on Monday or go to jail.

Mrs. Mary Brazil told the court that her husband had only given her $14 since he was ordered to pay $25 a month last August. She declared her husband had professed supreme contempt for the courts and refused to give her any more money.

U. S. ASSURES HARBOR WORK FOR OAKLAND

That Oakland harbor is recognized as an important port and that its necessities will be cared for, so far as possible, under the appropriations made available with the passage of the rivers and harbors bill, is the declaration of the government chief of engineers to Congressmen J. A. Elston at Washington.

A telegram from Elston this morning discloses the fact that the exact amount to be spent here is not at present determinable and that until the new survey ordered in the bill for Oakland, Berkeley and Albany harbors, there can be no estimate made. He points out, however, that the initial recommendation for the work here was $234,000.

$12,000,000 CARRIED

The rivers and harbors bill which passed the House yesterday carried a total omnibus appropriation of $12,000,000, of which $7,000,000 may be allocated for improvements and $5,000,000 for maintenance.

The bill does not appropriate any specific amount for any project, but the initial recommendation of the chief of engineers was $234,000.

NEW SURVEY AUTHORIZED

The chief of engineers tells me that he cannot state in advance what contribution will be made to Oakland harbor, but that it is recognized as an important port and its necessities will be cared for so far as possible. The bill also contains an item for a new survey of Oakland, Berkeley and Albany harbors in Alameda county. This will cover any survey made necessary by the proposed new lease in Berkeley and will include Oakland inner and outer harbor, with a possible turning basin in San Leandro bay. The extent and nature of the survey will probably be largely determined by the decision of local interests and the approval of the district engineer.

Speeches and Music Will Feature Rally

At the Community Americanization meeting of the Sons and Daughters of Washington at Chabot hall, Elwood and Grove streets, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, Harry C. Schroeder will be the principal speaker. His topic will be "After the War Propaganda." Vocal solos and duets will be furnished by George Watson, baritone, and Miss Marie A. Pacific, both of whom are pupils of the Dal Segno School of Music. They will be accompanied by its principal, Miss Aurora Thompson. The junior part of the program will be given under the direction of the Junior Literary club, with J. de Menezes presiding.

Abe Harris and Harold Morris will deliver short addresses and Felix Schreiber, organizer and director, will speak.

Community singing will be led by Mrs. L. C. Stadler. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Oakland Boy Scouts to Give Exhibition

Closing the western roundup of Boy Scout leaders in session this week in Berkeley, a demonstration of Scout activities is to be given by a troop of Oakland Boy Scouts at the Berkeley High School auditorium under the direction of Scout Executive Homer J. Boniss. The Scout executives were the guests of the Berkeley Rotary club at a luncheon at the Faculty club on the university campus at noon today.

Keneth E. Clarke of Santa Barbara presided over this morning's sessions of the Scout convention. James A. Wilder, Rev. Lapale McAffee and Charles F. Goodwin were the speakers.

Dr. Charles Plummer of Salt Lake City addressed the Scout leaders last night, telling them of the pack he carries when going on long hikes. He recommended the use of raw peanuts as a ration for use on hiking trips.

PAIR IN DIVORCE COURT ROW OVER AUTO'S CUSTODY

A "divorce" greatly added to the domestic difficulties of John F. Sepulveda and Mrs. Silena Sepulveda who is suing her husband for divorce and necessitated Judge T. W. Harris ruling that the wife have the use of the "car" on the first and third Sundays of the month and the husband having its use on the second and fourth Sundays. When the possibility of a fifth Sunday in the month was suggested, Judge Harris advised the husband and wife to patch up their differences and use it together.

Judge George Samuels, representing the husband, declared he had been unable to settle the difficulty over the use of the machine out of court.

The fact that J. J. Catellini and his wife Florence, both of Oakland, are the parents of six small children mitigated in their favor when the couple today pleaded guilty before United States District Judge Frank Rudkin to a charge of violating the war-time prohibition act. Catellini was fined $250, while his wife was fined $1.

The court gave them one week in which to obtain the money. Mrs. Catellini carried a three months' old infant swathed in a blanket in her arms when she stood before the court and divided her time between telling her story to Judge Rudkin and keeping a watchful eye on the squirming mite in her arms.

In imposing sentence Judge Rudkin warned the couple that their family of six little ones would be of no avail if they are arrested for a repetition of the offense with which they are charged.

According to Catellini he and his wife pooled their finances and invested in wine for the purpose of making money.

They were charged specifically with the sale of two gallons of wine for $11. Wine valued at several hundred dollars, which was found in the garage of their home, was confiscated.

Catellini is an expressman. Judge Rudkin is an expressman. Judge Rudkin is an expressman.

Assistant United States Attorney Wilford Tully today filed information in the United States District Court charging Roy W. Brasher, Pasquale Santina and Albert Matoditti, all of Oakland, with violations of the national prohibition amendment. The specific sales of wine were charged against each defendant. The evidence in the cases was secured by operatives acting under the supervision of R. W. Goss, field inspector of the internal revenue service.

Accused Man Pleads Guilty of Burglary

Donald Miller, said by the police to be a member of an organized band of burglars who operated in this district, today pleaded guilty to burglary before Judge January O. Quinn, and his case was referred to the probation officer for a report.

With James C. Carney, Miller is charged with breaking in a glass door at the home of Albin W. C. Sutherland, 107 Ricardo avenue, Piedmont, on November 27 last, and looting the home of furniture and war stamps valued at $150.

Miller was on probation for another charge of burglary when he was arrested by the police on this charge.

Several persons in the vicinity reported to the police investigators this morning that they heard the crash but thought it was someone breaking up boxes with an axe. Twelve dollars in money was taken from the till.

U. C. STUDENT TAKES DARE; IS ARRESTED

BERKELEY, Jan. 24.—A dare made by one of his fraternity brothers resulted in the arrest this morning of Gerald Nauman, 20-year-old student at the University of California, who is facing a petty larceny charge as a result of stealing a red lantern from the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway.

Nauman, Donald Klitzmiller and Clifford Maybeck, fellow members of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity, were driving in Klitzmiller's automobile along Shattuck avenue at Center street on the evening of January 14. One of the members of the party dared Nauman to take a lantern placed as a warning on construction work being done by the car company, according to Nauman's story in court this morning. A motorman on an approaching street car took the number of the machine and Nauman's arrest followed today as the result.

Nauman was released on $25 bail. He pleaded guilty to the charge today and will come up for sentence next Saturday.

Hoover Sentiment in State Will Be Fathomed by Women At Meeting Set for Monday

Those supporters of Senator Hiram Johnson for the Republican nomination for the presidency, who have experienced a feeling of uneasiness at the hovering of organized Hoover sentiment, are looking to the results of the meeting called by a number of women at the St. Francis on Monday afternoon either to see at rest their fears or to spur them to renewed effort.

The meeting is frankly and avowedly one to sound the depth of Hoover support in California. It has been called by a number of women, of whom Mrs. James Ellis Tucker, sister of W. B. Bourne, is head, and among whom are included Mrs. Elizabeth Gerberding, Mrs. Alfred McLaughlin, Mrs. L. Blum, Miss Julia George, Mrs. A. S. Baldwin, Mrs. Osmond Hooker, Mrs. E. D. Boyd, Mrs. S. M. Mott, Miss Ethel Moore, Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, Miss Mary Byrne, Mrs. Alfred Raas, Miss Elizabeth Ashie, Miss Mabel Pierce, Mrs. Elizabeth Livermore, Mrs. Wm. Keet, wife of the candidate for United States Senator; Mrs. Alexander Miller, Dr. Millicent Cosgrave, Mrs. Ida Finney Macrille, Mrs. Francis H. Davis and Mrs. William Palmer, Mrs. Lucas.

ENTIRE STATE QUERIED

The San Francisco meeting is to follow one held in Los Angeles and, in one way or another, the whole State is being queried as to its attitude on the Palo Alto man's candidacy. In no case has any one acted directly for Hoover and in no case has there been any admission of anything more than a disinterested desire to see the best man win.

FIREMEN RESCUED BY COMPANIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Battalion Chief Thomas Murphy was overcome by gas and smoke and Lieutenant William Byrne was rescued from death in a fire early this morning which badly damaged the Crown Electric Company's store, 153 Eddy street, and the B'nai B'rith building at 149 Eddy street, and sent scores of guests in adjoining hotels, scantily dressed, into the street.

The fire for a while threatened to spread throughout the entire block and was not extinguished until three alarms had been turned in. The blaze is believed to have started in the basement of the electrical establishment. It gained rapid headway. Both Murphy and Byrne were overcome while they were leading their men into the smoke congested hallway of the B'nai B'rith building. Murphy was with his men when overcome and was removed by them from the building. Byrne, however, was alone when the gas and smoke overwhelmed him and it was some time before his absence was noted.

Forming a rescue party William Koster, Fred Phillips and Thomas Tolaney rushed into the burning building and after a search found Byrne lying in the hallway. Both officers were removed to the Central Emergency hospital where they later recovered.

The cause of the fire has not been ascertained. Estimates of the damage range from $25,000 to $50,000.

PASSENGERS SHAKEN WHEN CARS CRASH

An investigation to fix the responsibility for an accident in which ten persons were slightly hurt, and a street car partly wrecked, has been ordered by the Southern Pacific and the San Francisco and Oakland Terminal Railroad company.

The street car, running west on Twelfth street at 11 o'clock last night, was struck by a Southern Pacific electric train at Twelfth and Webster streets. The twenty-five passengers on the car were frightened and shaken but no serious injuries resulted. Those who were taken to the Emergency hospital for treatment were: J. W. Berbeck, motorman, cut by flying glass; W. J. McCann, conductor, wrenched back; Lee White, motorman, S. P. train, cuts and bruises; J. Peto, conductor, S. P. train, cuts; Harold W. Cook, 2622 College avenue, cuts.

Until the investigation is completed there will be no arrests made or charges filed.

RICHMOND, Jan. 24.—W. H. Crockett, a conductor, and Eric Baruch, a motorman, were taken to this morning when their street car was struck by another car. The fog is blamed for the accident.

The car was standing in front of the Richmond car barn. Another car, coming from the rear, started to turn into the barn and the crew did not see the first car.

INDUSTRIAL STOCK-BOND EXCHANGE

STEELS HIGHER, MOTORS LOWER IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Steels and motors monopolized speculative attention during today's brief stock market session, the former for their increased strength and the latter because of their continued weakness.

Steel stocks, such as Bethlehem Steel, which fell 10 points, and Carnegie Steel, which fell 8 points, were the most active. Automobile Class to Get Diplomas at Auditorium When Examinations Close Tomorrow will be commencement day at the Civic Auditorium and the automobile class of 1920 will receive their diplomas and go out to begin their careers. All week long the graduates have been waiting for the examination at the hands of the public and it need not be repeated that they are making their grades. Their task from now on will be to prove that the confidence of their admirers has not been misplaced and it will be undertaken with a full quota of assurance.

The questions that have been propounded during the week would fill an encyclopedia, and while many of them have been pertinent and fundamental the bulk of the examination, nine hundred thousand questions that appeared to the champions of the candidates to have been asked merely as a means of killing time and keeping people busy.

But in the main the event has been highly satisfactory from every standpoint and the one assurance gained from the week is that the future is bright and filled with promise. There will be plenty of jobs for the graduates, that is a certainty. Many more than are available could go to work next week.

DRIVE WORRIES PUBLIC
But to pass up the graduation stuff and talk about automobiles. The Sutz salesmen came in the week sent on by O. S. call to the factory to be told why the drive is retained on the right side. That is the one question repeated to the selling staff by practically every person visiting the display. It is an instance in which non-conformity attracts a lot of attention. All the other cars, with the exception of the Pierce-Peugeot, have the drive on the left and the public can't seem to understand why these two cars persist in being different. The car is not on display and the "why" has had to bear the brunt of bombardment alone.

One salesman explained it so often it they finally forgot. Then it was when they sent the O. S. call to a counter question. "You have driven a horse?" he would ask. "Well, don't you drive on the right?" "Sure," the questioner would admit. "Well, there you are. Over in France they pass on the left so the right-hand drive is inside drive. So do they up in British Columbia. The salesmen, used to the right-side drive, got the idea behind all the questions. But that is a reasonable question compared to some of them. One guy asked if the car had a water-cooled exhaust. And mentioning that the headlights on the models look about the same from the rear as the front one man wanted to know if they light both ways.

FOOT BATH NECESSARY
The Stanley Steamer man was hard put to answer the one who was concerned about whether the steamer was ever troubled with hot water. "If the water don't get hot you can't go," he answered. "How's that?" the questioner persisted. "Well, you see it is like this explained John Morgan, head of the Stanley organization. The Stanley is troubled with cold in its pipes and before it can run up to speed it has to have a hot water foot bath."

The steamer model appears to have overcome the problem of placing a steam power plant in a small space, the great engineering difficulty that bothered the designers in the early models and the car has all week long been the center of crowds of people who have a thought of the gasoline problem.

PAYS TO ADVERTISE
The group surrounding the Willy-Knight display have been having a heap of fun at the expense of one of their number Jack Berry Jack, a salesman in the organization, became over-industrious and stamped his name and telephone number in all the catalogues. With consummate politeness the other salesmen were passing out catalogues advertising their competitor in the organization. Finally they got wise to the proposition and held a council of strategy.

From then on Berry began receiving telephone calls faster than he could answer them and he was jazzed up like a cabaret band. "Berry?" the voice on the other end would inquire. "I brought one of your catalogues away from the show and have decided to place an order for a Knight. Will you meet me at the Hotel Oakland in an hour."

Another one wanted Jack to call at the house in San Leandro and another lived in North Berkeley. Jack was going several ways for a touchdown, when he discovered that the "prospects" were salesmen from other organizations selling rival cars.

BERMUDA IS HINTED
But just by way of proving that people attended the show from the four corners of the universe this week a woman strolled into the Ford exhibit and looked over one of the models, examining it carefully. Salesman Lloyd M. Sewell thought he would let her alone until she indicated that she had seen something she couldn't figure out. He expected that she would ask if it had a full floating axle, a water-cooled horn a fourth dimension in the carburetor or something. But when she finally puckered her lips and let the question out it was this: "Young man, can you tell me what make of car this is?"

Sewell frowned. He had understood for years that there was one thing everybody knew, a Ford. When he revived he said to the questioner: "Young woman, how is Bermuda?"

If the retort has to be explained Bermuda is the only place on the map where they forbid automobiles. All the Irishmen at the show have congregated around the Peerless display of cars and trucks and when McGraith is the recognized candidate for the presidency of the Seinn Fein. The display show cars in green and trucks in orange.

Anyway, it's a fine show and those who do not see it before tomorrow night ends it will be sorry.

GAS RATE RAISE NOW REQUESTED

Increase in gas rates of from two to five cents a thousand feet faces Eastbay cities if applications filed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company are granted by the State Railroad Commission. High cost of material and labor and a gain in property values are the reasons cited for the request.

That the company is planning the expenditure of $10,000,000 for additions and enlargements to its system is disclosed at the same time as the filing of the petition. The company has leased the property of the Sierra and San Francisco Power Company for fifteen years, and purchased the property of the Northern California Power Company. To meet the requirements of these acquisitions a large expenditure of money is necessary.

INCREASE VARYING
Increase of about five cents a 1000 cubic feet of gas in San Francisco, and two to five cents in the Alameda district, including Oakland, Alameda, Albany, Berkeley, Emeryville and Piedmont, was requested. The following specific rate increases were asked for other districts supplied by the company: Hayward, San Leandro, Richmond, Sacramento, Fresno, San Jose and Redwood City, 20 cents a 1000 feet. Although small consumers in Vallejo will not have to pay an increase, large consumers there must pay 20 cents a 1000 feet, under the proposal.

TEN CENTS PROPOSED
Cinn. Napa, Tehama and Santa Rosa, Woodland and Marysville, 10 cents a 1000 feet for large consumers is requested. The proposed increase for Nevada City, Grass Valley Oroville and Colusa amounts to 55 cents for small consumers and 60 cents for the large. Los Gatos' proposed increase calls for 20 cents to 55 cents, depending upon the amount consumed. Emeryville, Red Bluff and Willows consumers are asked to pay from 20 cents to 55 cents a 1000 feet.

Convicted Lawyer to Expose Police Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24. — A grand jury investigation of Police Court methods and of activities of persons who operated within the Police Court may be aided by testimony from C. Vincent Riccardi, convicted lawyer. Riccardi, it is said, has made overtures to the jury for clemency in return for an exposure of Police Court and bail bond methods. He is seeking a reduction of the $10,000 bail to which he was admitted after he was convicted of embezzling money from a client. Twice juries have disagreed in his case.

More Rain Is Coming Soon, Declares Weather Expert

Conditions today are favorable for the best general rainfall throughout the state that have existed this season, according to a forecast issued by United States Weather Observer G. H. Willson. "It is the best outlook for a general rain throughout California we have had so far in many months, with precipitation throughout the bay region and Northern California by tonight and throughout the entire state by Monday," Willson said. A big storm developing off Vancouver during the night now is moving rapidly southeastward down the coast toward California. It already has brought rain to Western Oregon and Western Washington. It is being accompanied with moderate southeast gales along the north coast where southeast storm warnings have been displayed for fresh to whole southeast gales.

A high pressure area which has been hovering over this district for several days has moved southeastward, making room for a new climatic disturbance which will be marked by brisk southeast winds.

Professor Albert F. Porta, in the confidence of earthquakes, volcanoes, storms and fogs, who revealed their secrets on January 1, for this month, may once again be accorded the title of weather prophet who does not fail. For behold the storm sweeping down from the north, the fog which covers the land and the tempests which aroused Seattle, Wash., and the people along the shores of the Sea of Marmora last night. Professor Porta weeks ago had coined the stars searched the heavens and perfected the charts which told that these things should come to pass. Foggy and misty conditions will prevail followed by partial rains along our Pacific coast, said the San Francisco scientist of the period between January 20-23. "Was it not true?" Here comes the rain.

According to U. S. Weather Observer G. H. Willson, a big storm is moving rapidly southeastward down the coast to California from Vancouver.

Neptune and the earth have had a little conference which resulted in three distinct shocks of earthquake last night in Seattle and a rocking along the coast of the sea of Marmora. Professor Porta said that it would be so, bringing the Pacific coast into the territory which would be effected in the period of January 24-31.

January will end in rain, fog and misty winds in California, according to Professor Porta.
